Description of Change to the Customer:

The products listed in the "Products Affected / Intel Ordering Codes" table below will undergo the following change:

- The boxes of the Intel® Xeon® E-2124G and E-2124 processors incorrectly state that "Intel® Hyper-Threading Technology" is included. Intel is updating the box artwork to remove the "Intel® Hyper-Threading Technology" text. Product Packaging produced after March 11, 2019 will contain the corrected text.

Current label artwork being removed (highlighted in red):

Customer Impact of Change and Recommended Action:

This change is to the product boxing (carton) itself and not the product (processor and thermal solution). This does not impact the Intel® Xeon® E-2124G and E-2124 processors capabilities.

Intel will immediately stop shipping these products with the current artwork. Intel is asking customers who have already purchased these products to return ALL impacted units by following the Return Material Authorization (RMA) process for product returns and replacements. Customers should return ALL impacted units by March 4, 2019.
