Description of Change to the Customer:

Intel is adding a second source supplier of thermoform trays for the products listed below which already are packed in thermoform trays. There will be a slight visual change in the stacking feature from straight/square type to horseshoe type. The horseshoe feature improves anti-nesting capabilities. See diagrams below. There is no change to critical-to-function (CTF) dimensions or to outer dimensions of the tray. There is no change to the unit seating locations or to the tray to tray stacking. Both types of trays can be stacked on each other so there is no impact to stack height. Both types of tray may be shipped concurrently.
