Forecasted Key Milestones:

Date Customer Must be Ready to Receive Post-Conversion Material:	Jun 19, 2010
---	--------------

Description of Change to the Customer:

Intel is implementing the following changes:

1. A Waste Electrical and Electronic Equipment (WEEE) mark is being added to the board. The symbol is included in the serial number label as shown below:

This change is to comply with the German interpretation of the WEEE scope. WEEE is the European Union (EU) Directive regarding waste management of electrical and electronic equipment. Please refer the following link for more information about Intel's WEEE Directive Recycling Program: <http://www3.intel.com/cd/channel/reseller/emea/eng/316697.htm>

2. Updating the Regulatory Label on the packaging box to remove the China Compulsory Certification (CCC) mark, WEEE mark and the Belarus mark, and change the Korean certification mark from MIC to KCC. The following are pictures of the prior and post change Regulatory Labels:

Effective August 31, 2010, Intel will no longer obtain or sustain the China CCC certifications on Intel's server sub-assembly chassis products. These products do not fall into the scope or catalogue of products requiring China CCC certifications; as these products are considered not fully integrated and are completely non-operational (e.g. no peripheral drives, memory, processors, add-in cards, etc). Please contact your local Intel representative if you have any questions regarding this notice.

This WEEE mark change is for the German scope interpretation of WEEE. WEEE is the European Union (EU) Directive regarding waste management of electrical and electronic equipment.

Please refer the following link for more information about Intel's WEEE Directive Recycling Program:

The Belarus certification is not required until January 1, 2011 thus Intel decided to not apply / maintain the Belarus certification at this time. This Belarus mark removal will not affect any import to Belarus.

The current Korean certifications are still valid. The Korean certifier changed the Korean certification mark from MIC to KCC and requested certification holders to update the marking at their earliest convenience.

Customer Impact of Change and Recommended Action:

Customers may need to determine the need for the China Compulsory Certification (CCC) on their products before they are exported to or sold in the Peoples Republic of China market.
